

AGO's Claims Tracking System on the Web (CTWeb)

To make it in the big city you need a claims system that's got you covered from the streets to the suites.

Processing claims has changed with the bombardment of natural disasters, serving a larger book of business and answering to insureds who are without a home and/or automobile. The reputation of your company is put at stake and your claims system influences the perception of your company as a whole.

The right system will leverage each loss into a positive and effective testimonial on the great efficiency of your company. That kind of system supports the entire lifecycle of a claim swiftly and completely while providing all the resources to do the job professionally.

Word on the street is that AGO's Claims Tracking System on the Web (CTWeb) has the goods to deliver.

With CTWeb closed claim payments can be immediately executed without being detained in a time cycled spool. No need to manually verify coverage anymore. CTWeb will show you the policy record as it was on the date of loss. Enter an individual payment or structure recurring payments by paper check, EFT or debit-card account. Looking for subrogation? Deductible recovery? At your service with CTWeb. This sophisticated system will also interface with your Business Intelligence System.

AGO's Claims Tracking System on the Web (CTWeb) is a comprehensive browser-based program designed to make claims processing easier, and more efficient. The system has two major functions - claims processing and tracking - and allows the user to "flow through" the stages of the process from entering claims to issuing checks to claim closing. CTWeb can be used stand-alone or as part of a complete AGO insurance platform or integrated with your current In-house or third party software.
